New Technology of Low Temperature Vacuum Dry)

The Technology of Low Temperature Vacuum Dry system (hereinafter called LTVD) dries the natural fresh Ginseng on the condition of 750mmHg with Low Temperature and High Vacuum. And it supplies the porosity with the tissue of the Red Ginseng. It increases the solubility and the strength of stability of the moisture dramatically. Furthermore the key technology is minimized and completed the fermented period and dried shortly. (Generally the fermented period of Red Ginseng takes long time.)

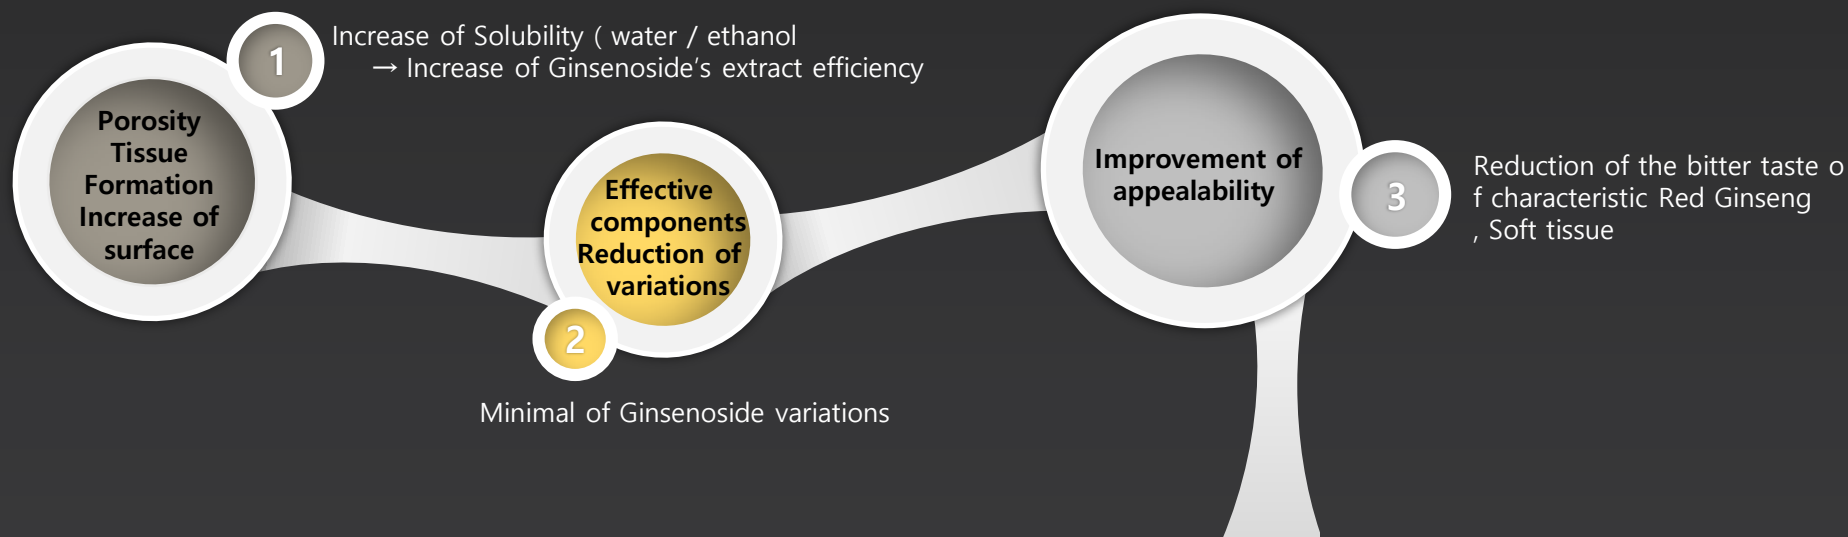

Introduction of Products _ Features of Products

Special taste of Red Ginseng of LTVD

Red Ginseng of LTVD is dried under the condition of high pressure of Low Temperature for 42 hours and minimized the degeneration of the effective components contained in Ginseng.

And it is improved the flavor of Red Ginseng to reduce the characteristic bitter taste. and you can intake Red Ginseng immediately because the porosity of Red Ginseng's tissue is increased and the texture is soft and crunchy.

LTVD is superior flavor and taste of Korean Red Ginseng Extract for overall preference.
Specially, Red Ginseng of LTVD is reduced the bitter taste and sweet taste is increase.
